The United States Tax Court Diversity in Government Internship Program (DiG Tax) is open for summer 2022 applicants. The DiG Tax program provides significant exposure to the inner workings of the U.S. Tax Court, a federal court located in Washington, D.C. DiG Tax interns will interact with judges and lawyers; may attend trials, meetings, and presentations; and may assist on projects with departments throughout the Court, including Case Services, Facilities, Finance, Human Resources, Library, Information Technology, and Public Affairs. The internship will last for a term of at least 60 days but not more than 89 days during the summer months. The term will end on or before September 24, 2022.

Prospective DiG Tax interns should demonstrate academic achievement; exhibit qualities such as strong character and self-sufficiency under challenging circumstances; and be self-directed and able to work with limited supervision.

Additionally, applicants must:

- A) Be a U.S. citizen or National;
- B) Be currently enrolled in an undergraduate or graduate program at an accredited U.S. institution of higher education recognized by the U.S. Department of Education (visit <https://www.ed.gov/accreditation> to verify your school and/or program of study);
- C) Have and maintain a 3.0 GPA or higher;
- D) Have an interest in working with the federal government; and
- E) Be able to work 40 hours per week during the summer internship.

Conditions of Employment

- Applicants must be United States citizens or Nationals.
- All Court employees and volunteers are required to adhere to the Code of Conduct for US Tax Court Employees.
- Employees of the United States Tax Court serve under “excepted appointments” and are considered “at-will” employees, and, as such, may be terminated with or without cause.
- Those who are required must abide by Selective Service registration requirements.
- All applicant information is subject to verification.
- The Federal Financial Reform Act requires direct deposit of federal wages for Court employees.

How to Apply
